Rayanne DuChane named Public Relations & Brand Marketing Communications Manager for Residential HVAC & Supply

I am pleased to announce that Rayanne DuChane has been named public relations & brand marketing communications manager supporting the residential brands of the Residential HVAC & Supply business unit. Rayanne's start date was effective Monday, July 16, 2018, with a transfer from within our broader team in which she previously supported Nexia as a marketing specialist, reporting to Scott Ewald.

Rayanne joined Ingersoll Rand with the Nexia team in June 2016, supporting the SBU's efforts including tradeshows, promotions and agency relationships. Prior to her time with Ingersoll Rand, she worked in communications at Texas A&M University where her efforts included developing an internal communications plan for her department. She also spent more than 20 years in the newspaper industry, starting as a reporter, then serving as a managing editor; and ending her newspaper career as an editor and publisher. Rayanne's extensive communication and journalism experience position her well to work with our public relations agency and media to tell the rich stories of our brands.

Rayanne holds a master's degree in strategic communications from Purdue University and a bachelor's degree in communications from Eastern New Mexico University.

Please join me in welcoming and supporting Rayanne as she transitions into her new role within Residential HVAC & Supply.
