After listening to your feedback, we are excited to announce improvements made to the door latching mechanism of the American Standard AccuClean. The new grabber and catch latching system makes it simple to remove and reattach the door after maintenance-- simply pull to unlock and push to lock.

Along with this change, units will now ship with three brand badges (Trane, American Standard, and Envirowise) that clip into place on the face of the door. This change supports our continuous improvement strategy within IAQ to improve inventory availability while also offering flexibility to our dealers to leverage multiple brands through a single stocking SKU.
