

New American Standard Product Naming Strategy

After receiving feedback from our distributors and dealers, we have decided to simplify our American Standard Product names! We will remove the reference of the SI, XI, XM, ZM, XV, and ZV and replace these with the number designating the SEER rating. These will be rolling changes for each product category and we will announce each product category as it changes. As we announce the change, the website, consumer literature, and product literature will follow. We have announced Heat Pumps, Air Handlers, Air Conditioners and are now continuing with Packaged Units. See these new product names below.
