Air Handler family discontinued in advance of new DOE standards. Within the next year the DOE will be implementing new efficiency standards. Throughout compliance evaluations of our product offerings, the GAF2 has not met the minimum efficiencies required by the DOE in 2023. Considering the upcoming DOE changes, and current global supply chain issues, we've decided to discontinue the GAF2 product family earlier than the DOE deadline. This discontinuation facilitates the simplification of our product offering and allows our suppliers to focus on making components for the GAM5, TAM 9 and upcoming TAMX.

Timeline for discontinuation:

This product will continue to be available for ordering the next 30 days. After that time, we will stop accepting orders and we will manufacture the remaining orders in backlog.
